General Conditions

- The stated prices are indicative and serve as a basis for individual calculation.
- The rental period includes time for event preparation, the event itself, and restoring the space to its original condition. Any extension beyond the agreed rental period is possible only by prior arrangement.
- The rental price includes basic supervision by the lessor. For larger or more technically demanding events, extended supervision may be required.
- A rental discount may be granted depending on the nature of the event (cultural, educational or public-benefit events).
- Based on an individual calculation, additional services may be arranged, in particular catering, accompanying programmes, or extended technical equipment and furniture.
- The organisation reserves the right to assess the suitability of the event with regard to the character of the national cultural monument.
